

Odometer Disclosure

Why is an odometer disclosure required?

The Truth in Mileage Act (TIMA) is a federal law that requires the seller of a motor vehicle to provide an odometer disclosure to the buyer at the time of sale or transfer of ownership. This is required on all motor vehicles up to and including 12,000 lbs unladen weight, or vehicles less than 10 years old. Under federal law, the Motor Vehicle Division is required to refuse the transfer of ownership unless the odometer disclosure is completed.

What is required on an odometer disclosure?

An odometer disclosure must be on a secure form, include the year, make, model & vehicle identification number of the vehicle, the buyer's name and address, the seller's signature, the buyer's signature and the current vehicle mileage at the time of sale or transfer of ownership.

When is an odometer disclosure required?

An odometer disclosure is required on all passenger vehicles, pickup trucks, trucks with a shipping or unladen weight of less than 2.5 tons, motor homes, and motorcycles that are less than ten years old.

Year of Purchase	Year Model
2009	2000 & Newer
2010	2001 & Newer
2011	2002 & Newer
2012	2003 & Newer
2013	2004 & Newer

What forms can be used for an odometer disclosure?

Titles, Manufacturer Certificates of Origin, and/or a Secure Odometer/Reassignment form SFN 18773 can be used. When using the Secure Odometer/Reassignment form you must include the vehicle information (vehicle identification number, year, make, and model), the buyer and seller signatures and mileage at the time of transfer.