

NOTICE

Starting immediately, Davis-Bacon certified payrolls on North Dakota DOT projects may be delivered to the Project Engineer. Payrolls not submitted through LCPTracker may now also be emailed to the Project Engineer, in pdf form. The pdf copy must be clear and legible and must be an accurate and complete copy of the certified payroll. It may contain either a true electronic signature or a photocopy of a wet signature. Contractors will receive the Project Engineer's email at Pre-Construction Conference. Please direct questions on this policy change to Gail Brown, NDDOT DBRA Wage Administrator, at (701) 328-2605.

Mandan, ND 58554
Phone: (701) 400-6295
Email: bountifultrucking@yahoo.com

Description of Services:

- TRUCKING: Hauling Bituminous Mix; Hauling Sand, Gravel, & Riprap; Other: Asphalt

Biya became interested in the trucking industry after talking to a friend who had been working in North Dakota for a few years. An entrepreneur at heart, Biya recognized the potential for business opportunities, obtained a CDL and relocated with his family to the Bismarck-Mandan area in January 2012. He began driving belly dumps on various construction projects all over North Dakota. Biya quickly learned the ins and outs of the trucking business and decided to form Bountiful Trucking LLC in June 2013. Since then, Biya has been able to expand his fleet, continue growing his expertise in the field and has become a newly certified North Dakota DBE.

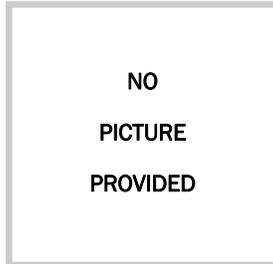

For Biya, the most interesting part of working in this industry is being involved in the process and seeing projects through to completion. He finds satisfaction in seeing the hard work and effort of his team lead to results. Biya also enjoys meeting, interacting and networking with the people he meets at the various job sites and elsewhere.

One of the greatest obstacles Biya has faced has been as a business owner is creating capital and finding financing to accommodate the growth of his company. Biya has worked with financial institutions in order to overcome this obstacle. He understands that it is sometimes important to take a few risks in business in order to move ahead. Certainly moving to North Dakota in the middle of winter was a risk that has proved worth taking.

As a company, Bountiful Trucking has been involved in projects all over the state of North Dakota working in a variety of terrain and through all seasons of the year. Biya has found this to be the most interesting part of the work and appreciates these kinds of challenges.

The goal for Bountiful Trucking in the future is to continue to expand its operations and become one of the best, most reliable trucking companies in the state.

Description of Services:

- CONSULTANT: Other Administrative Management Consulting, Public Relations Consulting

In early 2013, with a small contract in hand, Carol Robinson left her post as Oregon's State Coordinator for Health IT to launch Robinson & Associates Consulting, fulfilling a long-held goal. Business grew quickly, and what began as a one-woman operation soon developed into a thriving team of employed consultants and subcontractor partners. Three years later, Carol renamed the firm CedarBridge Group LLC to represent her strong commitment to the team approach they take in all of their work and has become a newly certified North Dakota DBE.

CedarBridge Group offers a full continuum of consulting and project support for healthcare transformation – from strategic planning to project implementation – for large and small clients in both public and private sectors. They support complex data sharing projects and assist their clients in solving persistent challenges through better use of health information technology.

CedarBridge Group brings experienced consultants to assist their clients as they solve tough challenges. They provide thought leadership and tactical support for healthcare and community improvement initiatives, with clients in the private sector, as well as federal, state, and local governments. Their extensive network of dependable partners allows them to build high performing teams tailored to match the unique needs of each client.

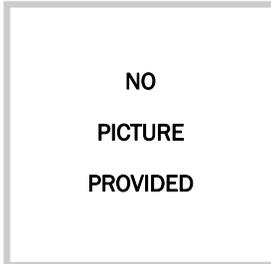

They start each engagement building an understanding of the client's needs and goals. Their flexible, customized team approach creates a trusted relationship with clients, who have a single point of accountability on their team.

They assist healthcare and social service organizations, as well as public agencies, with internal or community-based projects where information technology can enable better outcomes for the people they serve. Their team also provides policy analysis and program development services to clients.

For each engagement, they assemble top-notch talent that meets the requirements of the project. In addition to their skilled in-house team, their trusted partners bring additional expertise with technical, clinical, and business backgrounds.
