Utility work taking place on northbound and southbound I-29 at Reynolds interchange on December 2

Utility work will be taking place on northbound and southbound I-29 at the Reynolds interchange, 15 miles south of Grand Forks on Tuesday, December 2, between the hours of 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. During this time the interstate may be reduced to one lane or traffic may be detoured onto the interstate ramps as crews conduct utility work. Motorists should reduce speeds and follow detour signs.
